Lincoln Financial Group and the NFL: Partnering for education

By: Justin DiLucchio, Corporate Branding Associate, Lincoln Financial Group

Lincoln Financial Group has been a proud sponsor of the National Forensic League (NFL) speech and debate tournaments since 1994. Lincoln Financial Group recognizes that good corporate citizenship is intrinsic to our success and nowhere is this as apparent as it is through our affiliation with the NFL. I sat down with Lincoln Financial Group chairman and CEO, Jon Boscia to see what makes this a great relationship.

Jon began his relationship with the NFL while he was president of our flagship affiliate Lincoln National Life Insurance Co. The organization decided to sponsor the Lincoln-Douglas debate because it was able to lend the name Lincoln to its namesake's debate and cause. It also provided Lincoln Life with the ability to provide NFL winners with scholarships. Clearly the beginning of a strong relationship was forming and it would only get stronger as time passed.

Our 16th president, Abraham Lincoln believed strongly in the importance of effective communication skills and saw the meaning of being conversant on both sides of any issue. Jon shared a similar mindset and made Lincoln Financial Group a national corporate sponsor of the NFL when he became CEO of Lincoln Financial Group in 1998.

In speaking with Jon it is evident that he has a passion for assisting in training the next generation of leaders. He places communication highly on his own list of personal values and enjoys being involved with others who share this interest. He has been able to attend the finals many times throughout the partnership and notes the Lincoln-Douglas debate being among his personal favorites.

Jon noted that the number of teachers and coaches who appreciate the academic side of instruction, rather than the athletic, is a main reason why we have continued to build on this great partnership. Knowing that Lincoln Financial Group is making an impact goes a long way. The feedback received from these mentors and the effect that we have on such a large group of talented students is paramount in continuing to sponsor the NFL.

While attending the NFL opening ceremonies on Sunday June 12, 2005 at Lincoln Financial Field, Jon received candid feedback from students who were not only enthusiastic about the event, but also appreciated the opportunity to participate and compete for scholarship money. These were students completely unaware of his association with Lincoln Financial Group. It is anecdotes like these that truly make this a unique partnership of which we are proud to be a part.

Due to Jon's unyielding support of the NFL, he was presented with a national honorary membership during the opening ceremony at Lincoln Financial Field. Scott Wunn, National Executive Secretary of the NFL, presented Jon with a commemorative plaque and a gold NFL pin announcing his honorary NFL membership. With this membership Jon joins former presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt, Hubert Humphrey, and former senate member Everett Dirksen. The NFL board wanted to recognize Jon for his superior communication skills, outstanding vision for Lincoln Financial Group and his steadfast support of the NFL. "To me, there is not a problem in our world that does not have, at its core, the inability of one person to communicate with another, or one group of people to communicate with another. That's why I encourage students to participate in the training that the National Forensic League provides," said Jon.

Nurturing a young mind is one of the most important things you can ever do. That's why Lincoln Financial Group is a proud sponsor of the National Forensic League. After all, if there is one thing we've learned as a leading financial services company, there are no smarter investments than the ones you make in young people.

From the Editor

J. Scott Wunn

Congratulations, NFL! This summer's National Tournament in Philadelphia, PA was a huge success due to the combined efforts of hundreds of NFL supporters.

I would like to personally thank the students and coaches of the Valley Forge District and the state of Pennsylvania for their incredible work as hosts of the 2005 "Halls of Independence" Nationals. Thank you to tournament host, Brother Rene' Sterner, and his host committee for their countless hours of preparation. In addition, a special thank you goes to the coaches and administrators of St. Mark's High School, Salesianum School, St. Joseph's Preparatory School, and Roman Catholic for their kindness and generosity in allowing us the use of their facilities.

Thank you to our grand national sponsor Lincoln Financial Group for welcoming the NFL to your home city and providing Lincoln Financial Field for what will be known as one of the greatest opening ceremonies in tournament history. Also, we are so grateful to the Schwan Food Company, the Stennis Center for Public Service, Western Kentucky University and all of our national sponsors for their continued commitment to the NFL. It was incredibly exciting to welcome our two newest sponsors Colorado College and the National Foundation for Advancement in the Arts.

The NFL National Speech Tournament is an opportunity for our League to showcase the talent and efforts of our coaches and students, and to celebrate the strong history and tradition of the nation's greatest honor society. This year was no exception. On behalf of the National Forensic League, please accept our congratulations on a great National Tournament!

The “Other” NFL: My first experience with the National Forensic League

“Oh, and by the way, can you host a Lincoln Financial Group table at an NFL event at the field on Sunday?” My boss posed this question to me on Friday June 10, 2005. I remember thinking to myself, the NFL? On a Sunday? Either he’s lost it, or the Philadelphia Eagles season is getting started a lot earlier than last year. Well, it turned out that both of my hypotheses were wrong. As I would soon find out, this NFL was completely different.

I woke up early on Sunday morning and headed to Lincoln Financial Field (home of the Philadelphia Eagles), not really sure what I was getting myself into. There were already students crowding around vendors, recruiters, and sponsor booths of all kinds throughout the concourse of the stadium. Intrigued, I began to study this crowd as I set up my booth.

As I observed the crowd and talked with some of the participants, it was clear they possessed refined communications skills. Even through informal conversation their extraordinary talent was apparent. Throughout the day I grew excited to see the students in action and learn more about the “other” NFL.

As the 2005 Lincoln Financial Group/National Forensic League National Speech Tournament opening ceremonies began, students from each region adorned clothing and carried banners to represent their districts. They marched into the field as their names and districts were called and formed a line wrapping halfway around Lincoln Financial Field. This was an impressive sight. Knowing that talented students from across the country (and yes, even the republic of Guam) were gathered in Philadelphia for a week of speech and debate competition was extremely exciting.

After four days of fierce competition to narrow down the finalists, it was time to see the best of the best. On Thursday night the first to present were the Humorous Interpretation finalists. I imagined this to be my favorite, and I was right! It was like stand up comedy with an intellectual focus. Not only was the delivery impressive, but the content demonstrated remarkable wit. I specifically remember a presentation about a sleuth hired to find Julius Caesars’ murderer. There was a joke made about the word “inartini” being plural in Latin that made me laugh out loud. The combination of intellectual and comical skill was remarkable. All the presentations were equally notable and well worth the wait.

After the competition ended, I couldn’t help but think back to what NFL Executive Secretary Scott Wunn said at the opening ceremonies, “The NFL has truly come to the NFL.” Of course, he was referring to the fact that the National Forensic League was having their opening ceremonies at a National Football League stadium, but it caused me to think. Both of these organizations, although completely different in purpose, evoke feelings of passion and competition in their participants. While the National Football League recognizes athletes because of their skills on the field, the National Forensic League recognizes students for outstanding speech and debate skills. Every student who participated in the 2005 National Forensic League finals in Philadelphia showed remarkable communication skills and gained national recognition. Now I am proud to say that I am a fan of both NFLs.

'The People Speak 2005'

Public Debate/Discussion
Initiative

By Liz Leach, People Speak Coordinator

The 'People Speak 2005' initiative is a joint public debate/discussion project between the National Forensic League and the United Nations Foundation. The goal of the project is for NFL schools all over the country to participate in public discussions on key foreign policy issues during the months of September, October, and November 2005 with members of their communities. In order to be accepted as a 'People Speak' public debate/discussion project and qualify for the NFL incentives, the school's public event must meet certain topic requirements, involve as least 25 members of the community, last a minimum of 30 minutes, and return the appropriate feedback and event forms. In April 2005, approximately 2,606 NFL schools received promotional materials describing the benefits and incentives of becoming a part of this exciting project. A 'People Speak' booth was also set up at the 2005 NFL National Tournament to further encourage schools to sign up for their 'People Speak' events. To register your 'People Speak' event which must take place during the months of September, October, and November 2005, contact Liz in the National Office at 920-748-6206 or send an email to lleach@centurytel.net.

Liz Leach is a junior Communication major at Ripon College where she also competes on Ripon's forensics team. For more information about the 'People Speak' please contact Liz at lleach@centurytel.net.

Student Challenges

What is Your Favorite Topic Area to Debate? Why?

Visit the 'Student Resources' section of the NFL website for future question(s) posed.

Amber from Colorado

I really like to debate moral issues, especially those dealing with the United States. I like to learn more about our country when researching the topic area, and getting other people's insights about the subject matter.

Khrystal from Florida

I love to debate about how long certain offices such as Supreme Court should hold a reign. I don't think people should be allowed to hold an office for life, and or keep it.

Jake from Idaho

My favorite topic area to debate is Kritiks, because it is something to get you thinking about what you're really saying. All the other topic areas are more technical stuff, but Kritiks gets you more involved with the debate round and can get really interesting sometimes, making the debate more worthwhile and memorable, and increasing your skills as a debater at the same time.

Sean from Illinois

My favorite topic to debate would have to be reality television. There are so many opinions on the topic and I am a die-hard Survivor fan. So, I guess I need to stick up for my show.

Aaron from Iowa

I love to debate social issues because it gets everyone jazzed up. I like seeing their reactions when I say something controversial!

Cameron from Kansas

I like political debates so I really enjoy Student Congress. I think I will enjoy this year's policy debate topic as well.

Kristen from Nevada

I personally believe the all time best topic I have ever debated was abolishment of the death penalty. In addition, topics that deal with morals and values are fun because people always get very emotional, which leads to a very spirited debate.

Rahul from Ohio

Economy or role of government. Those are not only good debate areas, but they also teach you information that could prove useful later on.

Lia from Missouri

My favorite topic area to debate would have to be music and its effect on students. The reason why is because I enjoy music and also it makes me quite upset when people like to blame the music for students' actions.

Erin from Pennsylvania

Voting age is my favorite topic. Mostly because it's interesting to see what others have to say about lowering the voting age to 16 when I believe that 18 is still not old enough.

Victor from Texas

Environmental issues are always fun. They are extremely controversial and the debates can be extremely heated sometimes. Like last year's CX topic about marine natural resources, or like a past LD topic about environmental protection, these types of topics force us to look at the current state of our natural world and make us really think about whether or not to throw garbage on the ground again.

Inspiring Instructor Honored

Thank You Carmendale!

By Natalie A. Weber

Flying in from as far away as Massachusetts, Virginia, Michigan, Nebraska and Texas and driving up from greater Los Angeles and over from the Sacramento area, more than sixty alumni and friends of Sunnyvale-Fremont High School's Speech and Debate teams gathered in San Jose, California in April to enjoy reminiscences of their wonderful experiences in forensics and the friendships they have kept from their high school days.

These former students of Carmendale Fernandes, who is one of the original ten inductees of the NFL Hall of Fame, represented classes from the 50's, 60's, and 70's. Organized by Mark Utley (a Los Altos lawyer) '69, and Andrea Bryan (a Santa Clara County Judge) '69, the dinner reunion included slides, pictures and a power point presentation that spanned the forty-two year teaching career of Ms. Fernandes.

Now lawyers, judges, professors, CEO's, and authors, these men and women provided eloquent testimonials to the influence that competitive forensics has had on each of their lives and presented to Carmendale a crystal trophy to show their appreciation.

Carmendale Fernandes came to Fremont High School in 1948 after teaching for a year at Gustine High School. At Fremont High School she was department chair for English, Speech and Drama. She retired in 1988.

Carmendale graduated from Turlock High School in 1942 and from San Jose State College (now University) in 1946. She received her master's degree from San Jose State in 1962.

Carmendale remains involved in forensic groups and works as a speech consultant in Cupertino.

National Winners

Ron Kendler
Newton South HS, MA

The Professor's Plate

The winning student of the final round of United States Extemporaneous speaking, as reflected by counting every one of the eleven final round judges, was presented the Professor's Plate in honor of Professor Paul Lorentzen, a longtime board member of the Public Employees Roundtable. The Professor, himself, a strong supporter of NFL, presented the plate to James P. Hohman from Eastview High School ,(MN) 2005 final round winner, coached by Todd Hering.

Laura Roehl
Apple Valley HS, MN

Kubisch International Bowl

Ambassador Jack Kubisch contributed $500 to endow a special award to the contestant who wins the final round of Schwan International Extemporaneous Speaking at Nationals.

The Kubisch International Bowl, a silver engraved, footed bowl is presented to the student who, in the opinion of all final round judges, won the final round of International Extemp.

Ambassador Kubisch's idea was that the final round was like no other; a large audience, the very best contestants, cross examination, eleven judges; and its winner should be honored with a special award.

NFL thanks Ambassador Jack Kubisch for originating the idea and his generous support of this award. This year, the winner was Ron Kendler from Newton South HS, (MA) coached by Lisa Honeyman.

James P. Hohman
Eastview HS, MN

James Elson Bowl Award

Dr. Jon Kukla, the Patrick Henry Memorial Foundation Executive Vice President -- CEO, and the board members of the Patrick Henry Memorial at Red Hill, wished to commemorate the years of outstanding service given to the Foundation by retiring Executive Vice President-CEO James Elson, a renown authority on Patrick Henry and on the art of Oratory.

The Elson Bowl, engraved with a likeness of Patrick Henry and the NFL Seal, was presented to Laura Roehl of Apple Valley High School, (MN) coached by Pam Cady Wycoff and Joseph Wycoff. Roehl was the winner of the 2005 final round of Patrick Henry Original Oratory.

Texas...here we come!!

June 18th - 23rd, 2006

Who are we? Victory Briefs LLC is a California-based company made up of high school speech and debate coaches, former champion competitors, and forensics enthusiasts devoted to the improvement of forensics education across the country. We aim to help teachers and students at all levels of competition. We are dedicated to improving the quality of all forensics, with a special focus on policy debate, LD debate, and extemporaneous speaking. We operate a news website on speech/debate happenings, provide educational materials, run a nationwide scholarship tournament, and offer summer programs at UCLA. If you aren't already familiar with what we are about, ask around, and we hope to get to know you.

"...Victory Briefs provides a depth of analysis unmatched by any other debate publication, yet are written in a simple and logical manner that can be useful to everyone from the beginning novice to the advanced debater. The writers know that the true essence of debate does not lie in an attempt to provide all the answers, but more important to ask questions which stimulate further investigation of the resolution...." Matt Gregoline, 2000 IN State Champion

"...Our Lincoln-Douglas debaters can hardly wait for each installment. They use the authors' insights to help clarify their thinking...." Steve Gargo, Appleton West H.S., WI

"...Victory Briefs is truly the best evidence deal out there. Their analysis is top notch from novice to nationals competitor. Case writing, raw ideas, these guys have got it all. This is one of the few briefs I bother with before my team gets it...." Mr. Carcerano, Andress H.S., TX

"...These books are not mere cheat sheets. They provide evidence in the context of its analysis. They are an excellent educational resource...." Judith McMasters, Bishop Kelley H.S., OK

"...Even before debating, my students have a good idea of what the arguments mean. I'm very impressed with the quality. Keep it up!..." Mitch Gentry, West Bakersfield H.S., CA

What's new for the 2005-2006 season?

1. We are moving to a new location! We have moved across the street to a newly remodeled, high-rise office building. This new space not only promises to be more affordable, but will enable us to better deliver top-notch customer service. Our new address is 2811 Wilshire Boulevard, Suite 580, Santa Monica, California 90403. Please note the new address. Our telephone number, fax number, and email addresses will remain the same.

2. New DVD offering. Based on some really helpful customer feedback, we are no longer offering separate DVD demonstration debates for the topics as they are released. Instead, we are offering a single DVD covering all ten potential topics for a particular calendar year. This will allow you to have ten debates to show your students; allow you to see a debate on every proposed topic before you cast your NFL ballot; and will allow you to have a demonstration debate already at your finger-tips as soon as the topic is announced. There is no longer any need to wait for us to prepare the DVD after the topic is announced. The 2006 DVD product will be available by August 1, 2005! (We will continue to offer single-topic DVDs for the Sept-Oct and Nov-Dec 2005 resolutions, since they are part of the 2005 list.)

3. Revised Extemp books. The US Extemp and Foreign Extemp books are among our most popular products. These books are designed to teach extemps about many of the subjects they might draw as extemp topics. The articles not only cover important background information, but also offer tips on how to answer questions that might be drawn. These books were first introduced in 2000 and 2003. Many people have clamored for updated books, and we are happy to comply. This year, the books have undergone a massive revision and update. From now on, Victory Briefs will release an updated US Extemp volume and an updated Foreign Extemp volume each year.

4. Still looking for a summer debate camp? We still have some spots available on a first-come, first-served basis. Just contact us at (310) 453-1681 or michelin@victorybriefs.com as soon as you can. Session 1 is from July 3 to July 16, 2005 and Session 2 (which focuses on the Sept-Oct topic) is from August 7 to 20, 2005.

5. The next Victory Briefs Tournament will be held January 7-8, 2006. We would love to have you join us. Congratulations to last year's winner, Elizabeth Hadaway from S. F. Austin High School in Texas.

Bickel & Brewer, NYU Offer Students One-of-a-Kind Debate Competition

Entries due November 2, 2005

By Shawn Hiner Leamon

Are you looking for an exciting and challenging debate competition that is unlike any other?

You may find it in the National Public Policy Forum (NPPF), the only national contest that gives high school students the opportunity to participate in written and oral debates on issues of public policy.

It's not often that $5,000 is the prize for winning a high school debate tournament. Nor is it common for students to have the opportunity to debate in front of the world's foremost experts in debate, business, law and politics, while staying at one of New York City's finest hotels. I had these experiences. The law firm of Bickel & Brewer and New York University co-host the NPPF annually – and I participated in the contest last year.

My team, Greenhill School from Addison, Texas, received a flyer about the NPPF. The competition and its focus on written scholarship seemed like a great idea to me. It would provide me with a way to supplement my oral advocacy skills, and help me prepare for the written portions of my college entrance exams.

The debate research that my team and I had done conveniently applied to the NPPF topic, so we worked together to submit our qualifying round essay.

One week after submitting our essay, we received word that the judges had selected our essay as one of the top 16 and my team and I would be participating in the elimination round of the competition. We immediately began preparing for our Sweet 16 debate, and after an intense series of written exchanges with our opponents from Kaysville, Utah, we emerged victorious. It was on to the next round.

Participating as one of the top eight finalists was exciting, because the teams that advanced past this round would receive an all-expense-paid trip to the finals in New York. Our opponents from Richardson, Texas, presented a difficult fight. After a close written debate, the judges crowned us victorious, and we won a trip to New York to compete for the $5,000 grand prize.

This was when the competition got really interesting. As one of the final four teams, we competed in written and oral debate proceedings. Before traveling to New York, we had a preliminary written debate against our opponents from Bellaire, Texas, as a preview for the oral portion of our final four debates. When we arrived in New York, we attended an impressive welcome reception on the NYU campus and then we continued with the oral presentation of the semifinal competition. All of the activities took place on the NYU campus, a beautiful campus in the heart of New York City. (We stayed as guests of the Bickel & Brewer Foundation at the historic Essex House hotel next to Central Park.)

We won our semi-final round debate, and then advanced to the final competition against our rivals from Highland Park High School in Dallas, Texas. It was surprising to me that two Texas schools advanced to the finals, because more than 60 schools countrywide had entered the contest. A Texas team had never won.

Each team presented oral arguments and also entertained questions from an esteemed panel of judges. The final panel consisted of such illustrious judges that it was almost intimidating:

- Bob Shrum, high-profile political strategist and speechwriter
- Mark Green, former New York mayor candidate
- Melissa Maxcy Wade, Emory University director of Forensics
- John Sexton, president of New York University
- Bill Brewer, partner at Bickel & Brewer law firm

Debating in front of such a highly qualified group of individuals was an unforgettable experience. The finals involved more than 90 minutes of oral presentations, and also a question and answer period with the judges. After the debate finals, we waited anxiously for the dinner and awards ceremony that evening.

Bickel & Brewer and NYU hosted an elegant reception and dinner that involved more than 100 guests from the university, the National Association of Urban Debate Leagues, Emory University, Albany Law School, and Starwood Hotels & Resorts, just to name a few.

The keynote speaker was Mr. Shrum, who talked about how his experiences as a high school and college debater helped prepare him for a political career – and his future role as one of the senior advisors in the 2004 presidential campaign.

At the conclusion of Mr. Shrum's speech, it was time for the announcements. In a narrow decision, our school was voted the winner of this national competition. We won the "Bickel & Brewer Cup" and also a $5,000 grand prize to be used in support of our school's debate program. Highland Park was awarded a $2,500 prize and the other semifinal schools were each awarded $1,000 – all made possible by the Bickel & Brewer Foundation.

This was a wonderful opportunity and I would recommend it for all schools. Where else can you find a written and oral debate competition that allows you to compete with more than 300 high school students representing more than 20 different states?

The NPPF is one of the few tournaments where participation is free of cost for all schools – public or private. All you have to do is form a team and submit a qualifying round essay on the 2005 – 06 topic, "Resolved: The United States federal government should substantially limit its ability to detain individuals without charge." So get started today.

Essays are due by November 2, 2005, to kom@bickelbrewer.com. The NPPF Web site, www.bickelbrewer.com/debate, has all of the information you need, including essay examples. If you wish to speak to someone personally, you also can call 214-653-4895.

The NPPF finals included an exciting oral debate competition. Students engaged in oral advocacy before a panel of some of the world's foremost experts in debate, business, law and politics.

Many members of the NPPF Advisory Board served as judges of the final competition. Judges for the 2004-05 finals competition included (l-r) Bill Brewer, Bickel & Brewer Law Firm; New York University President, John Sexton; Emory Director of Forensics, Melissa Maxcy Wade; Mark Green, former candidate for New York Mayor; and Robert R. Schrum, former advisor to Kerry/Edwards for President.

2005 Julia Burke Award

By Nora Stanton

Elizabeth Kim of Glenbrook South High School was the recipient of the 2005 Julia Burke Award for Character and Excellence in National High School Policy Debate. She was chosen from a list of outstanding finalists including Leo Zimmerman of Lexington High School, and Stephen Chandler of Caddo Magnet.

The award was presented by Jonathan Cowperthwait, a TOC debater in 2000, a member of the Board of Directors of The Julia Burke Foundation and a close personal friend of Julia Burke. The presentation was made at the Tournament of Champions Breakfast in May.

The Julia Burke Award was established to recognize the policy debater who best typifies the combination of qualities that Julia embodied, including excellence in and passion for debate, love and respect for the policy debate community, and a commitment to helping others and maintaining friendships despite the pressures of competition at the highest level. Julia debated for The College Preparatory School in Oakland, California and was lost in October 1998 as a result of a car accident.

The award is sponsored by The Julia Burke Foundation and includes a perpetual trophy in the shape of a flame inscribed, "THE JULIA BURKE FLAME FOR CHARACTER AND EXCELLENCE IN HIGH

Elizabeth Kim

SCHOOL POLICY DEBATE." A smaller replica of the perpetual trophy is given to the recipient, with a $1,000 college scholarship, and a $1,000 donation to the charity of the recipient's choice.

Nominations for the 2006 award are invited from all policy debaters, coaches and judges from now until after the Berkeley Tournament next February. They should be submitted to Marilyn\_Burke@JuliaBurkeFoundation.com or CallmeHuls@aol.com

Meet Don Crabtree

Meet the Council

By Liz Leach

Each month the Rostrum will feature an Executive Council Board Member

As Vice-President of the Executive Council, Hall of Fame member, and six diamond coach, Don Crabtree is a familiar name to NFL coaches and students. Don has been coaching for 35 years at Park Hill High School in Kansas City, Missouri. His first experience with the NFL was "the first time I had to fill out the NFL credit sheets in 1972 and had no idea what I was doing." His team consists of about 110 "pretty active" students who also receive coaching from Kyle Howe who Don thinks of as a "co-coach."

In addition to coaching, Don serves on the Executive Council. He first served from 1988 to 1990 and has currently been serving since 1994. In Don's opinion, being a member of the Executive Council is "a way to affect change and get a lot of input from the coaches." Responsiveness to the coaches and schools involved in the NFL, listening with civility and fairness to all issues, and acting responsibly for the greater good of the League are Don's primary goals for the Executive Council.

Don's responsibilities on the Executive Council include meeting three times a year to formulate policy, review the rules, look at how to make NFL and the National tournament better and stronger for all the young people involved. During the National tournament, Don serves as an ombudsman which he has been doing since 1989 (and finds absolutely fascinating.) According to Don, being an ombudsman can involve anything from a question, concern, or a full fledged protest, but also, gives him an opportunity to meet new people at Nationals.

Don's vision for the future of the NFL includes involving more schools and students, increasing user friendly technology for coaches, and promoting more teacher education and coach retention.

As someone who names the students as what he loves most about coaching and teaching, you can rest assured that Don has some favorite memories. In 1986, Don coached a National Champion in Dramatic Interp. Don most certainly remembers 1983 and 1994 when his school, Park Hill, hosted the National tournament. Also, Don had the pleasure of joining Mr. Copeland and Mr. Roberts in a meeting with Ted Turner in his private office of the CNN towers to discuss public forum debate. When asked for his favorite tournament food he said, "Dots. I love Dots."

Don has been married for 34 years to his wife Ann, which in his mind speaks volumes of her support of the activity as he is so often gone on weekends. Don also has a daughter, Alicia, who works in marketing. In his hard-to-find spare time, Don loves to read and swim.

As a coach for 35 years, Don acknowledges that he wouldn't have made it this far if it wasn't for his family and the students. Don is a valuable member of the Executive Council, and the entire NFL family.
